The ship Black Hawk, from Liverpool or New York, with 800 passengers aboard foundered at sea. The passengers were all saved. Over a hundred of them were landed at Falmouth.

The war news is important. The allied fleet bombarded the Russian fort at Sulina, at the mouth of the Danube, on the 8th and 9th Omar Pasha, with 70,000 men, gave battle to Gen. Luders, between Silistria and Rassova. 'The battle lasted several hours. During the previous night, Omar had sent a division towards the sea, which division, during the height of the battle. attacked the Russians in the rear, causing tremendous confusion. 'The Russians retreated behind Czzernavods, with the loss of many guns, stores baggage, and their military chest.

The Russians continue their attack on Silistra. On the 20th, the Turks crossed the Danube to destroy the Russian batteries, and advanced to Kalarescha, but after some hard fighting they retired .-Silistria is uninjured.

Paskewitch has ordered the Russians to advance no further into Dobruscha.

An important battle was fought on the 25th between the Turks and Greek insur gents. Arta was taken by the Turks in fifty minutes by assault. The Greek leader, Grivas, fled. Excepting Pircas, all the coast of Greece was closely blockaded by the affice.

On the 19th a fight ensued between the Turks and Montenegrous, at Nichsick .-The latter were commanded by Vorode George Petrovitch Ashiand, May 10th, 1834.

The Martha Washington Case.

The testimony of Burron closed after an examination of four days, in which he sustained himself-admirably.

The Helane correspondent of the Cinsinnati Times of yesterday, saye:

The seventh day's proceedings is on hand and will appear to morrow, having been unavoidably crowded out. It is rath-er langitudy being devoted in full to the examination and cross examination of old man Filley. Afer quite an exciting dis-cussion, the Court admitted as evidence the confession of his son. This ruling of the Court bears hard on the fate of the prisoners; and the impression so prevalent here, after the first and second day's proceeding of the trial had been made public, that they would get clear, is now involved in considerable doubt.

We give below the main portion of the dying confession of L. L. FILLEY, one of the firm of Filley & Chapin. The confession says;

I went to the store, and found the Chapins, Cole, and Cummings. They showed me the bills of lading that had been receipted at the boat.—I said nothing, but mistrusted there was something wrong .-They said they had been buying leather. I left the store, and Adams Chapin came out and said he wanted to talk with me, and said he was going to Louisville. He binted to me what was going on but seemed to be afraid to tell me. Two or three days after the boat was gone, was in the office, standing by the desk, and the Chapins handed me a book to copy off the weight of the leather, which I did as they called them off to me. I knew nothing about the leather or weights, only as they read them off from a paper, pur-at the desk. Earl was not there, nor did he call off any leather to me during that week. After I had copied the bills, then they, for the first time, told me what was going on, and then said that the man that exposed them would be shot down in less than four hours. I made no reply, but have ever stood in fear and so affected me the thought of what I was implicated in, and the trouble, threw me into a state of wretchedness, and used me up.

Just before the boat was burnt, Rufus told me, and so did Lorenzo, that the calculation was to burn the Martha Washington, and no one that exposed them could live long; and that if they were all arrested, others that were not known would shoot them down. Said Cole was the first that got it up, and Kissane was as much in it as any one, for he had the largest insurance of any one. After the boat was burnt Adams Chapin told me that a man by the name of Holland set the boat a fire.

I saw Holland, or the first time, some weeks after the boat was burnt. He came to the store to see Cummings-spent most of his time in the store. One of the Chapins told me that Kis-sime insurance made a shipment over the left; said that Kissane shipped more fiction than any one else.

I heard Nicholson, who was clerk the boat, tell Cummings, in my presence that any man who exposed them, he would shoot down. This was said so that I
